

INVITATION

Training for EU judges on private enforcement of EU competition law
Specialised seminar: Bucharest, February 4-5, 2016

EurActiv Romania, Fondation EurActiv and the Association of European Competition Law Judges are pleased to invite you to the second specialised training seminar on private enforcement of competition law, which will take place in Bucharest, February 4-5, 2016.

The seminar is part of a series of two events that will form the basis of an online video training module in the field of private enforcement of completion law. The sessions will be filmed and the recordings will be later incorporated in the module.

For whom?

The seminar is dedicated to EU judges and prosecutors, as well as to apprentice national judges, and the staff of the judges' offices or of national courts. Participants must be from EU Member States, with the exception of Denmark and the United Kingdom.

On what?

The seminar taking place in Bucharest will be focused on the following issues:

- Evidence, part 1: on what topics; managing evidence including disclosure
- Evidence, part 2: counterfactuals; experts
- Causation and damages: presumption of harm; leniency; passing on; contribution
- Completing a case: consensual dispute resolution; collective actions and settlements; judgments, enforcement and informing the Commission; costs

Who will be there? How can I register?

The speakers are reputed legal experts:

- Adam SCOTT, founding member of the Competition Commission Appeal Tribunals, Director of Studies
- Liam McKECHNIE, a Justice of the Supreme Court of Ireland
- Diana UNGUREANU, trainer for judges on commercial law and competition law, National Institute of Magistracy, judge at Court of Appeal Pitești, Romania.

Participants can register until the 27th of January, 2016. Accommodation and meals are covered for all participants. Travel costs can be reimbursed in the limit of 350 Euro per participant.

Online live feed

The seminar will have a live feed on the project's website.

Interested judicial actors can watch it live and can pose questions online. The latter will be addressed in the interactive sessions of the seminar.

For registration please contact Ramona Diaconu, Events and Logistics Coordinator, at ramona.diaconu@euractiv.ro.

The seminar is part of the innovative EU-financed project “Online training tool for European Judges on private enforcement of EU competition law”.

The initiative aims at contributing to the improvement of knowledge, application and interpretation of EU competition law, particularly with regards to the private enforcement of competition rules, by creating and disseminating an innovative video-training module. The video recordings of two training seminars will form the basis of the module. The project has a dedicated platform that will host the module and the live feeds of the events.

The project is financed by the European Commission, DG Competition. Its content reflects only the authors` view and the Commission is not responsible for any use that may be made of the information it contains.
